L2L at Germantown

The Lads-to-Leaders/Leaderettes (L2L) is a program to build skills and knowledge to be used in the Lord's church. Children and young adults from third grade through college age gain experience in many areas that allow them to have the confidence and understanding to use their talents. Some activities are team-oriented, while others are individual. Some events are competitive and others are not. There are many ways to be involved in the program. The end result is a growth in spirituality for those who participate and the recognition of a job well done.

The Germantown church of Christ is very active in the L2L program. The congregation continues to add L2L activities each year; but even more importantly the congregation's young people continue to increase their personal involvement.

The youth who are involved in the L2L program at Germantown use the skills which they have improved to work in the Lord's church. The L2L participants are able to be involved in many Christian deeds throughout the year because of their involvement in L2L.

HOW L2L WORKS:

- We have a Kickoff Banquet in September
- Parents sign-up their children for specific activities
- Some activities are individual while others are team-oriented
- Children participate in an activity under the guidance of a coordinator
- Most activities meet on Sunday afternoon; others at specific times
- Children and parents work together to keep up-to-date on activities
- Children practice at home allowing for family time together
- Children, in speaking or reading activities, have an opportunity to present to the congregation during Bible class times or after Sunday night worship prior to the trip to Nashville
- We go to the National Convention in Nashville
